

TripLy – A Dynamic Ride-sharing platform
Milestone-03
Adari Samuel Prasad (Group-05)

3.1 Landing Page

The screenshot shows the TripLy login page. The top navigation bar includes links for "Home", "Find Rides", "Offer Ride", "Sign In", and "Get Started". The main content area features a "Welcome Back" message with the subtext "Sign in to continue your journey". It has two input fields: "Email" containing "rohitsharma@gmail.com" and "Password" containing "". A "Sign In →" button is located below the password field. At the bottom of the form, there's a link "Don't have an account? Sign up".

3.2 : Passenger Login credentials

3.3 : Passenger Login Successful

A screenshot of a web browser window titled "localhost:8080". The header is identical to the login page. The main content area features a "Welcome back, Rohit Sharma" message in pink, followed by a "Find your perfect ride or post your own." link and a "Find a Ride" button. On the left, there's a "Live Feed" section with a list of recent ride posts. On the right, there's a "Available Rides" section with filters for Source, Destination, Date, and other options. Two car images are shown: a red Maruti Swift and a blue Tesla Model 3.
